Mid-week groups all meet in their usual slots this week and Home Bible Study Groups gather for the 1 Peter study.

Young Adults Gathering: all students and young adults are invited to the Gilmours' home on Saturday 4th October at 7.30pm for a Pudding Night.

The new Sunday Evening Bible Study starts up this Sunday, for all students and those of student age. This will meet downstairs after the Evening Service, and to help them in their study we'd like to offer some baking to keep them going!

If you would like to provide some home bakes for them one Sunday, please get in touch with Sally by replying to this email and we'll organise a wee rota.

Remember that from next Sunday, the 5th of October, our evening services will begin at 6pm, hopefully making things a little bit easier for travelling home afterwards.

Last Sunday we were due to have an update from our mission partners in Italy, Rod and Debbie Jones. We weren't able to watch the video in the morning service, although those who were out in the evening got to see it, but we did pray for their work in the morning. Their video update is now available to view on the church website on this link: Rod Jones Video

Christmas Choir rehearsals begin this Monday, 29th September, with an introduction evening, then will be working over the next couple of months to learn a series of 7 songs for the Christmas Carol Service which takes place on 14th December. We would really love to have some new voices join in this year - we are especially short of male voices at the moment! If you love to sing and can learn a part by listening to tracks, or by reading music, then you would be very welcome to come along and join in at 7.30pm. There's no expectation that everyone attends every single Monday as there will be enough time to review each song at rehearsals, and you can use listening tracks to keep practicing at home in between! Get in touch with Sally if you would like to know more or let her know you plan to come along.

The Church Weekend Away is being planned for 13th-15th March 2026. We will be gathering at Faskally House in Pitlochry for a weekend of fellowship and teaching from Hamish Sneddon. You can find out more on our website at www.hebronaberdeen.org.uk/weekend, and you'll be able to book spaces there from 1st October.

Every Blessing,
